CROWN CHAKRA DOMINANCE

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

The language of signs and synchronicity may be a strong form in which your intuition speaks. You have a heightened ability to perceive energy at the crown center. You are crown chakra intuitive! One key indicator for crown chakra dominants is that they receive many intuitive confirmations through chills, surges at the crown and goosebumps. A crown chakra dominant is able to see the light in everything and may have a hard time identifying or working with shadow energy. It is important to acknowledge the spectrum in order to support healthy discernment. This may be an area to intentionally explore and develop your intuitive muscle around. I

STRENGTH =
CONFIRMATIONS, SIGNS
+ SYNCHRONICITY

Your intuition speaks through the form of confirmation through chills/goosebumps. You experience a beautiful language of signs and synchronicity all around you to affirm your intuitive knowing. It can be quite magical living from this place.

CHALLENGE = EGO DOMINANCE +
ENERGETIC SPECTRUM

When the crown chakra is vulnerable, it is much easier to shift into a place of ego dominance. We all have an ego as human beings, the importance is establishing awareness around when the ego is leading and noticing when it dominates. Acknowledging the shadow part of the spectrum is essential to crown chakra health and discernment.
